

5th Armored Division's Killed In Action

The muffled drum's sad roll has beat
The soldier's last tattoo*
No more on life's parade shall meet
That brave and fallen few;
On Fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents are spread;
But Glory guards with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

Theodore O'Hara, 1847

I am deeply indebted to Ted Darcy with the WFI Research Group for his invaluable assistance in completing the information below. Ted has nearly twenty years experience researching military casualties and has been instrumental in the recovery of the remains of U.S. personnel. It is through his tireless efforts that this web page is made possible. Ted can be reached by clicking here.

Officially, 710 soldiers of the 5th Armored Division and its attached units were killed in action or died of wounds received in action, and 2,442 were wounded in action. However, our investigation has authenticated many more than that.

This web page includes KIA/MIA from the 628th Tank Destroyer Battalion as well as the 707th and 772nd Tank Battalions. While the 628th TD was not an organic part of the 5th Armored Division, it was attached to the 5th shortly after landing at Utah Beach and served with distinction along side the 5th AD throughout most of the war.

The 707th Tank Battalion was created from elements of the 81st Tank Regiment, 5th Armored Division. They landed on Omaha Beach on September 1, 1944.

The 772nd Tank Battalion was also originally a part of the 5th Armored. The 772nd Tank Battalion was formed on September 20, 1943 at Pine Camp, New York. At the same time, it was relieved from the 5th Armored Division and assigned to Special Troops, XIII Corps.

Each of the Battalions are listed at the bottom of the page.

Those who were killed in action are listed here in alphabetical order by surname. Categories that are blank indicate no information was available. Please notify me of any errors, omissions, or corrections at: Webmaster

Missing Cemetary Information: Many of the men listed above have no cemetary information listed. The reason for that is the next of kin authorized to make disposition of the remains was allowed to select one of the following alternatives:

- Permanent interment in an American military cemetery on foreign soil specifically designed, constructed, and maintained in perpetuity as a memorial to American War Dead.
- Repatriation of the remains to U.S. soil for interment in a national cemetery.
- Repatriation of the remains to the individual's homeland or that of their next of kin for interment in a private cemetery.

If no cemetary information is listed, then it is most likely the family had the remains returned for interment in a private cemetery.

*The word "tattoo" in The Bivouac of the Dead refers to a British custom. A final bugle call that sounded the end of the day. The word is derived from the Dutch doe den tap toe, which means turn off the taps. The sounding of the first tattoo signalled the Duty Officer was making his rounds, checking that sentry posts were manned. The last tattoo was sounded when the last sentry post was confirmed to be manned and notified any soldiers at large they should be in their barracks. It is this custom that is thought to have originated the American "Taps".
